The Africa in the Picture Film Festival, which will be held from 2 till 7 November 2010 in Amsterdam and The Hague, will have the cinema release of Shmuel Beru film Zrubavel.

Winner of the Special Jury Prize at the Taormina Film Festival, "Zrubavel" has the distinction of being the first film made by an Ethiopian Israeli, new comer Shmuel Beru, who at the age of 8 walked across the Sudanese desert to immigrate to Israel. The young television and stage actor's directorial debut tells a familiar immigrant story in an unfamiliar setting -- the little known Ethiopian Jewish community of his adopted country.
